8 October 2012, Hyderabad

About the speaker:

Maxime Zucca is a naturalist, specialized in Ornithology. He previously worked at the National French museum of Natural History, and is now employed at Natureparif, the agency for nature and biodiversity of Paris Region, in charge of biodiversity indicators and policies. Passionate birdwatcher, bird ringer and conservationist, he wrote two books both published in 2010, one on Paris' breeding birds and one on Bird Migration. Recently, he travelled for two years around Asia and Oceania to witness the biodiversity and its conservation challenges in other parts of the world.
