

Happiness Grows from Trees

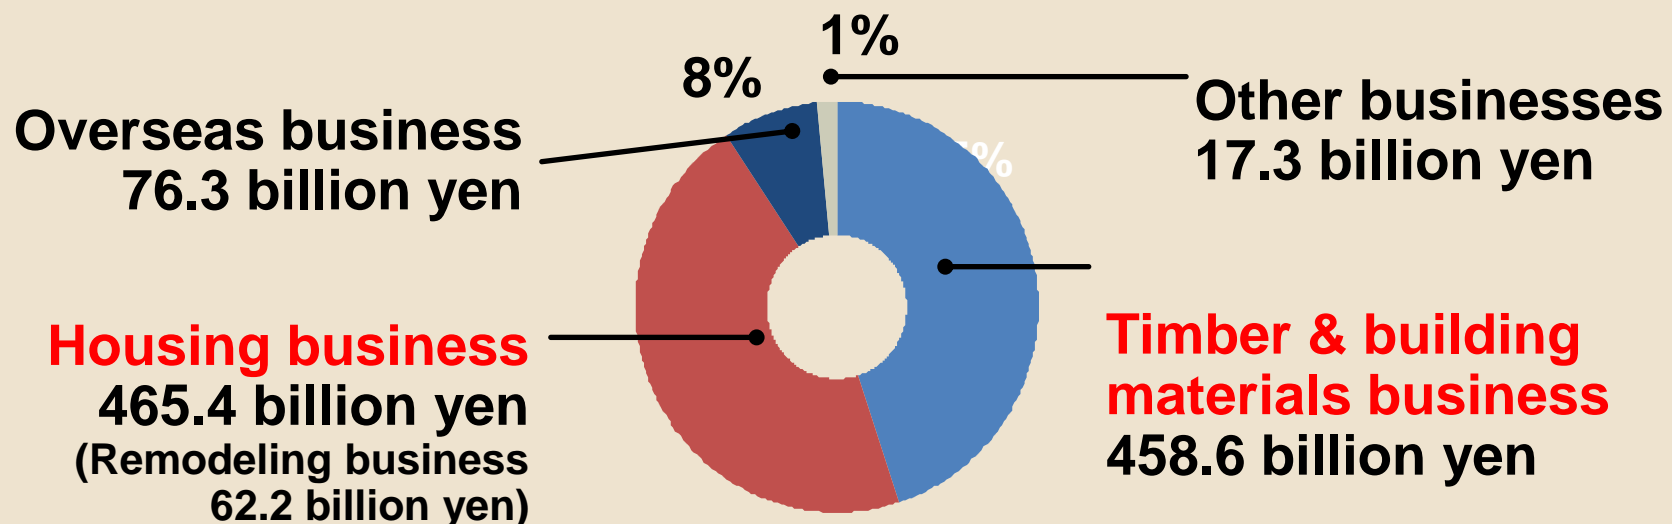

Sumitomo Forestry Group and Biodiversity

Company Name	Sumitomo Forestry Co., Ltd.
Founded/Incorporated	Founded 1691; incorporated 1948
Paid-in Capital	27,672 million yen
Employees	Consolidated: 17,413; unconsolidated: 4,486
Subsidiaries/Affiliates	Subsidiaries 58 (31 overseas); affiliates 17 (14 overseas)
Sales	973 billion yen (fiscal year ended March 2014)

*Sales for each business include intersegment sales.

Large-Scale Reforestation Plan and the Start of Sustainable Forestry

Happiness Grows from Trees

国土報恩

1881: Former smelting worksite

2003: View of reforested smelting worksite

Teigo Iba

- 1691 Opening of the Besshi Copper Mine; permission granted for use of timber from nearby forests.
- 1894 The Large-Scale Reforestation Plan was established. The Besshi mountains were revived through large-scale reforestation.
- 1903 Organization and start of the first private “Operation Plan (Forestry Plan)”
→ Establishment of “Sustainable Forestry” principle

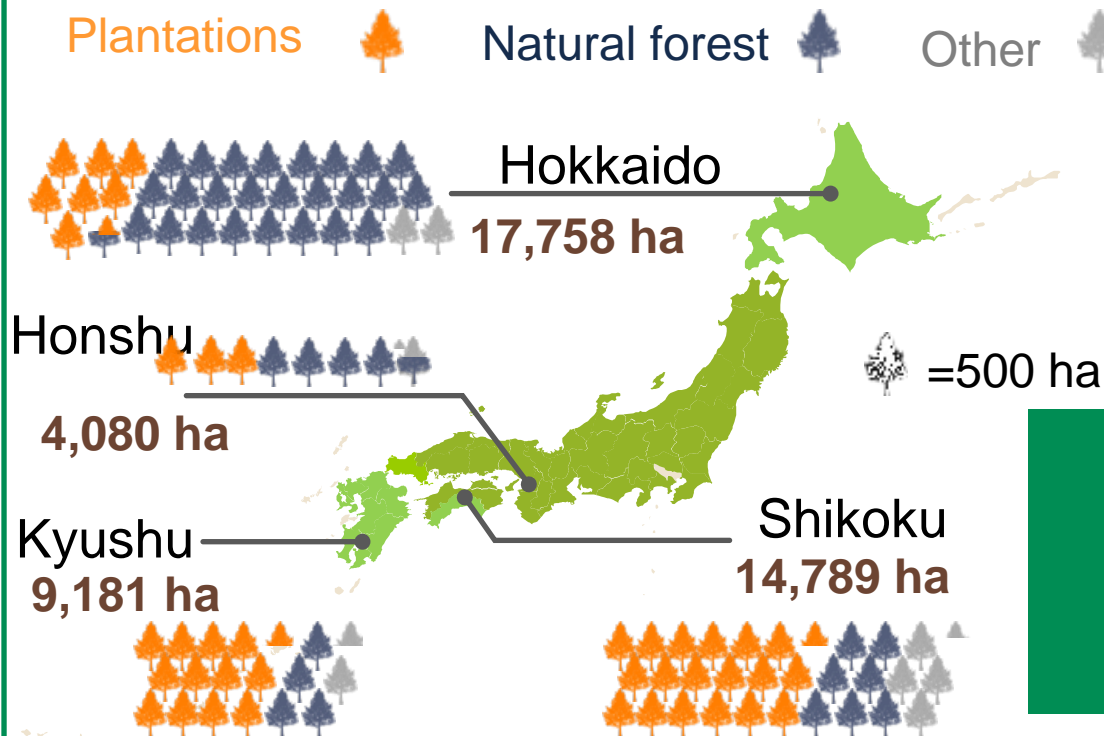

Sumitomo Forestry Group efforts to Biodiversity

The Sumitomo Forestry Group Declaration of Biodiversity and Biodiversity Long-term Targets

Efforts to Biodiversity of upstream

Company-owned forests in Japan
As of April 1, 2014
45,808 ha

Efforts to Biodiversity of upstream

Sumitomo Forestry's Red Data Book

Wild Animals living in Company-owned forests

Research of economic evaluation of company-owned forests of "Ecosystem services"

Timber Procurement Philosophy & Policy for sustainable society that is able to develop in harmony with forests

Timber & Building Materials Distribution Business

Logs

Processed timber

Plywood

Chips

Efforts to Biodiversity of midstream

Timber Procurement Philosophy & Policy for sustainable society that is able to develop in harmony with forests

KIKORIN-PLYWOOD

Efforts to Biodiversity of downstream

As a comprehensive greenery planner offers greening plans delivered from the perspectives of biodiversity and

Environmental Greening

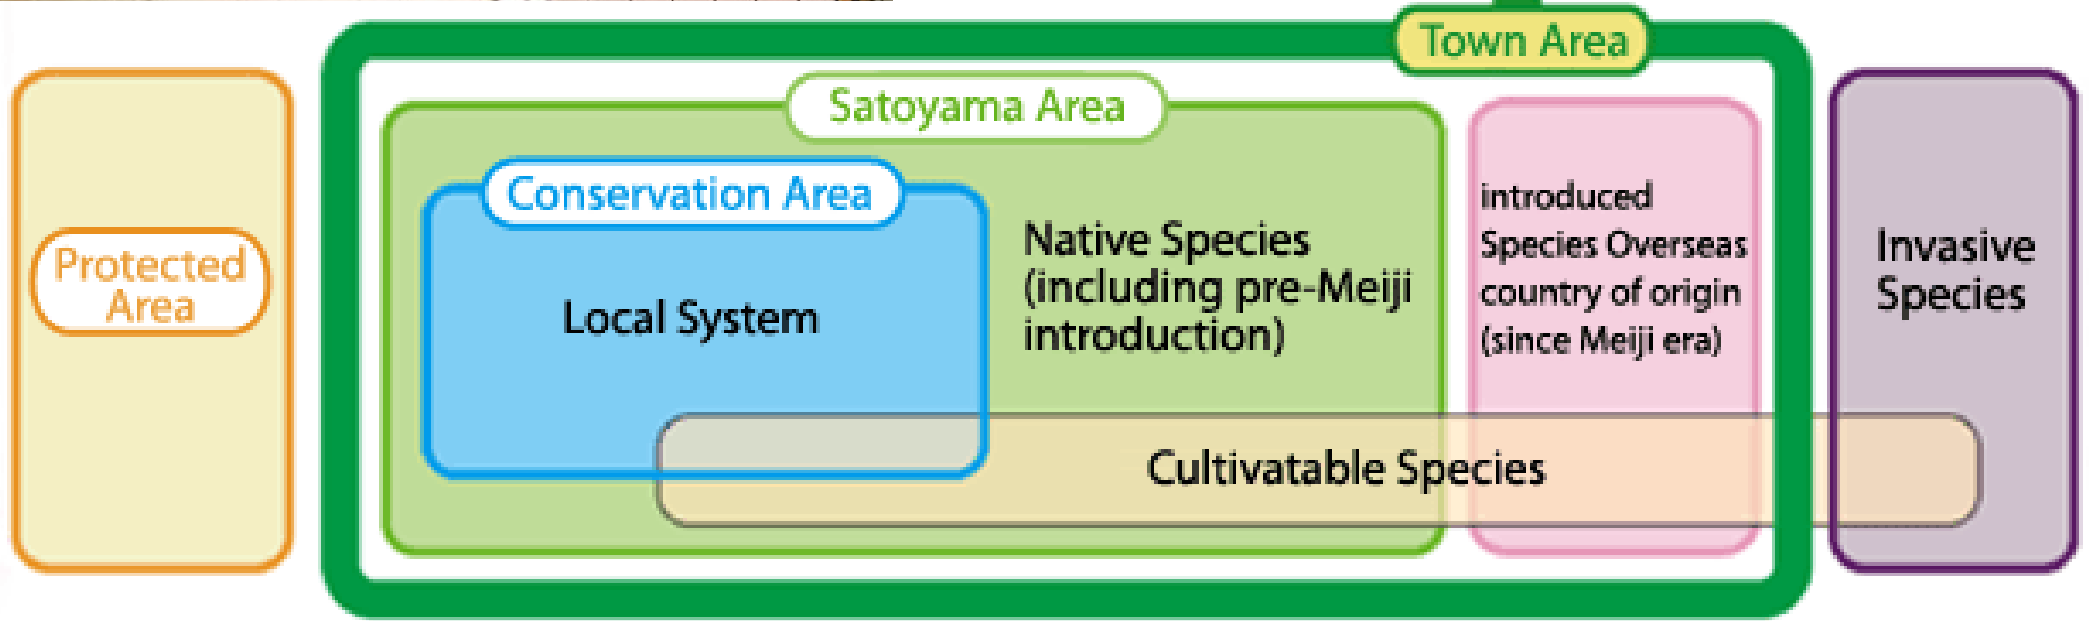

Greening Materials

Efforts to Biodiversity of downstream

Harmonic Plants

Happiness Grows from Trees

SUMITOMO FORESTRY

<http://sfc.jp>

Thank you for listening.

Please contact the following address

NAKAI_satoru@star.sfc.co.jp