ARMED CONFLICT

Since we have dismissed armed conflict from terms let's use ALIEN SPECIES for demonstration purposes.

would it be possible to see how many decisions there will be - Decisions (18) or Decisions (3) which decision will be displayed first - I suppose the decisions that are most strongly tagged/related to the term, meaning those that are tagged as Overall predominately to this term come first, and within this again those that have the highest overall count of tags to the term. It should also be possible for the searcher to get them alternatively per alphabet.

Could there be a KEY word search that gives the possibility to sieve through the selection with a certain term be displayed instead of the events?

This calendar will be relevant only for InfoMEA, NOT for the analytical index, which is more static

Would it be possible here to have a term cloud that reflects the overall relationship to other terms - for instance, there will be strong relationship of alien species to certain terms like ecosystems, conservation, biodiversity, and a less strong relationship to other terms. Another example would be the strong link between conservation and sustainable use, terms which are mostly tagged together, and a weak relationship to terms that are tagged together only 3-5 times. I would like to confirm that the relationship will be evident directly from the tagged excel sheets or the databases fed from it or the content management system, once it is running...

Lastly, as laid out in the "Functionality" slide show, it would be great if the cloud of terms could adapt to the level of depth the document search is going into - this would, however, only be relevant for the document search and NOT for the term search module.
