

Young Biologists Association

Clean-Up Day dedicated to the International Day for Biological Diversity 2011

On 22th of May 2011, “Young Biologists Association” NGO, with assistance of “Life Colors” ecological NGO, Yerevan and Hrazdan Aarhus Centers and Hrazdan mayor's office is organizing clean-up day dedicated to the International Day for Biological Diversity 2011. The event will take place in Hrazdan forestry area near village Aghavnadzor and Marmarik river basin. This part of the picturesque forest has become a recreation area and holidaymakers soil the forest, which rapidly become a landfill. On 22th of May more than 50 young people will join efforts to clean the forest and to raise awareness and understanding of youth about importance of forest biodiversity conservation. The Hrazdan mayor's office will post the dustbins and will organize future garbage disposal.

